

Child on Child Abuse Policy

July 2024

This policy should be used in line with Keeping Children Safe in Education 2024 and the DfE policy Sexual violence and Sexual Harassment Between Children in Schools and Colleges 2021

This policy was written by Amanda McGarrigle, and is based upon the KCC model policy.

There have been no changes to this policy from the 2023 version.

Let the children come to me and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these.” (Luke 18:16)

This policy is based upon our Christian values of thankfulness, respect, honesty, love and resilience.

1. An introduction to abuse and harmful behaviour

Children may be harmful to one another in several ways which would be classified as child on child abuse. All staff should be aware that children can abuse other children (often referred to as peer on peer abuse). This is most likely to include, but may not be limited to:

- Bullying (including cyberbullying);
- Physical abuse such as hitting, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm;
- Sexual violence, such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault;
- Sexual harassment, such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment which may be stand-alone or part of a broader pattern of abuse;
- Up-skirting, which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without them knowing, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm.
- Sexting (also known as youth produced sexual imagery); and
- Initiation/hazing type violence and rituals.

Abusive behaviour can happen to pupils in schools and settings and it is necessary to consider what abuse is and looks like, how it can be managed and what appropriate support and intervention can be put in place to meet the needs of the individual and what preventative strategies may be put in place to reduce further risk of harm. Abuse is abuse and should never be tolerated or passed off as 'banter' or 'part of growing up'.

2. Types of abuse

There are many forms of abuse that may occur between children and this list is not exhaustive. Each form of abuse or prejudiced behaviour is described in detail followed by advice and support on actions to be taken.

Physical Abuse

Physical abuse may include, hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm to another person. There may be many reasons why a child harms another and it is important to understand why a child has engaged in such behaviour, including accidentally before considering the action or punishment to be undertaken.

Sexually harmful behaviour/ Sexual abuse

Sexual violence and sexual harassment can occur between two children of any age and sex. It can also occur through a group of children sexually assaulting or sexually harassing a single child or group of children. This can happen both inside and outside of school.

Sexual Violence

For the purpose of the DfE advice, sexual violence refers to sexual offences under the Sexual Offences Act 2003, including rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault (described in the guidance and in KCSiE). It is important that St Mary's staff are aware of sexual violence and the fact children can, and sometimes do, abuse their peers in this way.

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment means 'unwanted conduct of a sexual nature' that can occur online and offline and both inside and outside of school. When the guidance references sexual harassment, it does so in the context of child-on-child sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is likely to: violate a child's dignity, and/or make them feel intimidated, degraded or humiliated and/or create a hostile, offensive or sexualised environment.

Whilst not intended to be an exhaustive list, sexual harassment can include:

- sexual comments, such as: telling sexual stories, making lewd comments, making sexual remarks about clothes and appearance and calling someone sexualised names.
- sexual "jokes" or taunting.
- physical behaviour, such as: deliberately brushing against someone, interfering with someone's clothes and displaying pictures, photos or drawings of a sexual nature; and
- online sexual harassment. This may be standalone, or part of a wider pattern of sexual harassment and/or sexual violence. It may include:
 - non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and videos.
 - sexualised online bullying.
 - unwanted sexual comments and messages, including, on social media.
 - sexual exploitation; coercion and threats; and
 - upskirting.

Bullying (Physical, name calling, homophobic etc)

Bullying is unwanted, aggressive behaviour among school aged children that involves a real or perceived power imbalance. The behaviour is repeated, or has the potential to be repeated, over time. Both children who are bullied and who bully others may have serious, lasting problems. In order to be considered bullying, the behaviour must be aggressive and include:

- An Imbalance of Power: Children who bully use their power—such as physical strength, access to embarrassing information, or popularity—to control or harm others. Power imbalances can change over time and in different situations, even if they involve the same people.
- Repetition: Bullying behaviours happen more than once or have the potential to happen more than once.

Bullying includes actions such as making threats, spreading rumours, attacking someone physically or verbally or for a particular reason e.g. size, hair colour, gender, sexual orientation, and excluding someone from a group on purpose.

Cyber Bullying

Cyberbullying is the use of phones, instant messaging, e-mail, chat rooms or social networking sites such as Facebook and Twitter to harass threaten or intimidate someone for the same reasons as stated above. It is important to state that cyber bullying can very easily fall into criminal behaviour under the Malicious Communications Act 1988 and is also supported by the Communications Act 2003. If the behaviour involves the use of taking or distributing indecent images of children under the age of 18 then this is also a criminal offence under the Sexual Offences Act 2003. Outside of the immediate support children may require in these instances, the school will have no choice but to involve the police to investigate these situations.

Youth Produced Sexual Imagery

Youth produced sexual imagery (Sexting) is when someone sends or receives a sexually explicit text, image or video. This includes sending 'nude pics', 'rude pics' or 'nude selfies'. Pressuring someone into sending a nude picture can happen in any relationship and to anyone, whatever their age, gender or sexual preference. However, once the image is taken and sent, the sender has lost control of the image and these images could end up anywhere. By having in their possession, or distributing, indecent images of a person under 18 on to someone else, children are not even aware that they could be breaking the law as stated as these are offences under the Sexual Offences Act 2003.

Initiation/Hazing

Hazing is a form of initiation ceremony which is used to induct newcomers into an organisation such as a sports team, gang etc. There are a number of different forms, from relatively mild rituals to severe and sometimes violent ceremonies. The idea behind this practice is that it welcomes newcomers by subjecting them to a series of trials which promote a bond between them. After the hazing is over, the newcomers also have something in common with older members of the organisation, because they all experienced it as part of a rite of passage. Many rituals involve humiliation, embarrassment, abuse, and harassment.

Prejudiced Behaviour

The term prejudice-related bullying refers to a range of hurtful behaviour, physical or emotional or both, which causes someone to feel powerless, worthless, excluded or marginalised, and which is connected with prejudices around belonging, identity and equality in wider society – in particular, prejudices to do with disabilities and special educational needs, ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds, gender, home life, (for example in relation to issues of care, parental occupation, poverty and social class) and sexual identity (homosexual, bisexual, transsexual).

3. Expected actions

As with all safeguarding concerns staff are expected to follow the school's policy and procedure. All staff should act in the best interests of the child, immediate consideration should be given as to how best to support and protect the victim and the alleged perpetrator, as well as any other pupils that area involved or impacted.

The Designated Lead (Mrs Amanda McGarrigle) should be informed as soon as possible so they can make decisions around next steps. In her absence, the deputy DSLs should be referred to immediately.

Staff should not be prejudiced, judgemental, dismissive or irresponsible in dealing with such sensitive matters.

"It is essential that all victims are reassured that they are being taken seriously and that they will be supported and kept safe" KCSIE 2019.

Consideration should be given to use of the Sexual Behaviour Traffic Light Tool

<https://www.stopitnow.org.uk/con-sexual-behaviour/how-to-tell-if-a-childs-sexual-behaviourstop-trafficlight>

The tool uses a traffic light system to categorise the sexual behaviours of children and is designed to help professionals:

- Make decisions about safeguarding children
- Assess and respond appropriately to sexual behaviour in children
- Understand healthy sexual development and distinguish it from harmful behaviour

By categorising sexual behaviours as green, amber or red, professionals across different agencies can work to the same standardised criteria when making decisions and can protect children with a unified approach. It is our policy to use this toolkit at St Mary's.

4. Next Steps

If the information that you have available to you at any point indicates that a child may be at risk of significant harm or has suffered significant harm, then a referral must be made to Kent Children's services, usually through the Children's Portal,(see page 12 for contact details) immediately (where a crime/potential crime has been committed the police should also be notified). If social care and the police intend to pursue this further, they may ask to interview the children in school, or they may ask for parents to come to school to be spoken to. It is important to be prepared for every situation and the potential time it may take. It may also be that social care feel that it does not meet their criteria in which case you may challenge that decision, with that individual or their line manager. If on discussion however, you agree with the decision, you may then be required to inform parents. Consideration should be given to contacting the Education Safeguarding Office (See page 12 for contact details) and carrying out a no names consultation for advice and support.

5. Risk Assessment

At this point you must consider intent. Has this been a deliberate or contrived situation for one child to be able to harm another? Remember to include all risk factors and what you can put in place to mitigate and lower the risk.

6. Informing parents/carers

Please Note: When referring to parents this applies to parents of victim and alleged perpetrator.

If, once appropriate advice has been sought from police/social care you have agreement to inform parents/guardians or have been allocated that role from the other services involved then you need to inform the parents/guardians within the timeframe agreed. If other services are not going to be involved then equally, this information may need to be shared with parents. In all circumstances where risk of harm to the child is evident, then St Mary's will encourage the child to share the information with their parents and support them to do this. If the child does not give consent, the school will act in the best interest of the child and if a risk has been identified, will inform parents. This would apply to parents of all children that are involved. We believe that best way to inform parents is face to face, although some information may need to be shared over the telephone to arrange the meeting.

7. Points to consider

What is the age of the children involved?

How old are the children involved in the incident and is there any age difference between those involved? (In relation to sexual exploration, children under the age of 5, in particular 1-4 year olds who are learning toileting skills may show a particular interest in exploration. This, however should not be overlooked if other factors of concern are present (see following).

Where did the incident or incidents take place?

Was the incident in an open, visible place to others? If so, was it observed? If not, is more supervision required within this particular area?

What was the explanation by all children involved of what occurred?

Can each of the children give the same explanation of the incident? What is the effect on the children involved? Is the incident seen to be bullying for example, in which case is it regular and repetitive? Does one child's version differ from another's and if so why?

What is each child's understanding of what occurred? Do the children know/understand what they are doing? E.g. do they have knowledge of body parts, of privacy and what constitutes inappropriate touching? Could the child's behaviour have been prompted by something they may have heard or been learning about? Is the behaviour deliberate and contrived? Does the child understand the impact of their behaviour on the other person? In dealing with an incident of this nature the answers are not always clear cut. Where it is unclear if there is a risk to a child or children, the DSL at St Mary's will take advice from the Education Safeguarding Team and/or Kent Children's Services.

Patterns of behaviour Has the behaviour been repeated by or to an individual on more than one occasion? Has the behaviour persisted after it has already been discussed or dealt with? Has either child or children been raised as a concern previously?

8. Procedures and after care

Matters will be dealt with by the school on a case by case basis, and procedures will be followed in line with the behaviour policy and the child protection policy. What support they require depends on the individual child. It may be that they wish to seek counselling or one to one support via a mentor. It may also be that they feel able to deal with the incident(s) on their own or with support of family and friends. It is important that children are monitored and offered support should they require it in the future. If the incidents are of a bullying nature, children may need support in improving peer groups/relationships with children or restorative work with all those involved may be required. Other interventions that will be considered may target a whole class or year group - for example a speaker on cyber bullying, relationship abuse etc. It may be that through the continued curriculum certain issues can be discussed and debated more frequently. If the child feels particularly vulnerable it may be that a risk assessment can be put in place for them whilst in school so that they have someone named that they can talk to, support strategies for managing future issues and identified services to offer additional support.

For children who have displayed harmful behaviour

It is important to understand why the child has behaved in such a way. It may be that the child is experiencing their own difficulties and may even have been harmed themselves in a similar way. In such cases support such as one to one mentoring or counselling may also be necessary.

Particular support from identified services may be necessary through an Early Help referral, and the child may require additional support from family members. Please note that if a family requests or agrees to a referral, social care and police must make decisions before schools take any actions if the incident(s) meet this threshold.

Once the support required to meet the child's needs has been put in place, it is important that the child understands the impact of their behaviour. This may be in the form of restorative justice e.g. making amends with the child they have targeted if this has been some form of bullying.

In the cases of sexually harmful behaviour it may be a requirement for the child to engage in one to one work with a particular service or agency (if a crime has been committed this may be through the police or youth justice service). If there is any form of criminal investigation ongoing it may be that the child cannot be educated on site until the investigation has concluded, in which case, St Mary's will provide the child with appropriate support and education whilst off site. Even following the conclusion of any investigation, a child's behaviour may continue to pose a risk to others in which case an individual risk assessment may be required. This will be completed via a multi-agency response to ensure that the needs of the child and the risks towards others are measured by all of those agencies involved including the child and their parents. This may mean additional supervision of the child or protective strategies if the child feels at risk of engaging in further inappropriate or harmful behaviour. The school may also choose a consequence such as exclusion or internal exclusion/inclusion/seclusion for a period of time to allow the child to reflect on their behaviour.

9. Aftercare

It is important that following the incident the children involved continue to feel supported and receive help even if they have stated that they are managing the incident. Sometimes the feelings of remorse, regret or unhappiness may occur at a much later stage than the incident. It is important to ensure that children do not engage in any further harmful behaviour either towards someone else or to themselves as a way of coping (e.g. self-harm). In which case, regular reviews with the children following the incident(s) are imperative, and at St Mary's a member of staff will be identified to 'keep in touch'.

10. Preventative strategies

For all schools and settings, it is important to develop appropriate strategies in order to prevent peer on peer abuse rather than manage the issues in a reactive way. Firstly, and most importantly for is the recognition that peer on peer abuse can and will occur on any site even with the most stringent of policies and support mechanisms. It is important to continue to recognise and manage risks and learn how to improve and move forward with strategies in supporting children to talk about issues with staff. This will be supported by ensuring that St Mary's has an open environment where children feel safe to share information about anything that is upsetting or worrying them. This will be strengthened through a strong and positive PHSE/SMSC curriculum that tackles such issues as prejudiced behaviour and gives children an open forum to talk things through rather than seek one on one opportunities to be harmful to one another. To enable such an open and honest environment it is necessary to ensure the whole workforce feels confident and enabled to talk about issues and challenge perceptions of children, including use of inappropriate language and behaviour towards one another. In order to create such an environment, whole staff training, CPD around abusive behaviours and talking to children in a way that continues to create an open and honest environment without prejudice is required. It is incredibly important that staff do not dismiss issues as 'banter' or 'growing up' or compare them to their own experiences of childhood. It is necessary that staff consider each issue and each individual in their own right before taking action. If staff minimise the concerns raised it may result in a child seeking no further help or advice. In the event that child do not feel able to speak to some one at school, we ask parents and friends so speak to our safeguarding team on their behalf (Mrs McGarrigle, Mrs Davison, Mrs Pooley and Mrs Shelton).
